Notes (BA Modules) –

- Each BA distance-learning module is split into 5 units – and one week is allocated for each unit. We expect tutorial groups to meet for just 4 out of 5 units of the module – so that the group doesn't meet in the week following a residential, hence allowing catch up time for doing the reading for that week's unit [groups are free to meet every week, but only if the group has unanimously agreed to this].
- Weeks 6 & 7 are set aside for writing up the assignment. We try to allow an extra grace/buffer week before the assignment is due to be handed in. But please note that assignments are intended to be completed by the end of week 7, and therefore before the next module begins (hence, avoiding overlap between assignment writing and the start of the next module).
- Work handed in to a 30 July deadline will not normally be marked until 1 September.
